

Kyogle Landcare

July Update

Fawcett's Creek

Kyogle Landcare have partnered with Conservation Volunteers Australia to undertake weed management along the creek bank adjoining the caravan park. There have been 4 Tuesday workdays so far with another 3 to come. So far, we have had a total of 40 volunteers! How cool is that! If you would like to help out meet at the tennis courts Tuesday 9 am. Next monthly working bee is Saturday the 21st July from 9 – 11am. Meet at the tennis courts

Horseshoe Creek

Work continues between the two bridges along Horseshoe Creek. A dedicated group of volunteers continue to meet and work on this important wildlife corridor every third Sunday of the month. The Regional Weed Co Ordinator has been out to conduct an assessment of a new bio security threat; Job's Tears. Job's Tears is currently an unlisted threat, however has the potential to "clog" Horseshoe Creek and potentially affect the health of the Richmond River. As well as Job's Tears the major threats to the health of this waterway are Madeira Vine, Balloon Vine, Giant Devils Fig as well as the usual suspects – Lantana and Crofton Weed. Next working bee is Sunday the 19th August. Meet at 9am 823 Horseshoe Creek.

Restoration work at Fawcett's Creek

Horseshoe Creek

National Tree Planting Day

Join us on Sunday the 29th of July from 10 until 11.30 to celebrate both National Tree Day and the contribution of Conservation Volunteers to the restoration work along Fawcett's Creek. Come and plant a tree of 2. Meet at the tennis courts at 10.

Nursery News

Please note that the nursery hours have changed. We now operate from 9.30 until 12pm every Tuesday. Feel free to drop in for a chat and to check out and pick up some plants. At the moment we have lots of Native Ginger, Dianella, Lomandras for sale. These plants are suitable for suburban back yards.

Kyogle Bazaar

The nursery is holding a plant stall at the Kyogle Bazaar on the 22nd of July. If you can help out please let Sharon (0423923311) or Rob (0437866911) know.

Grant Writing Workshop

Thursday 16th August. Come and learn how to write that "winning grant". 5.30 – 8 pm. Meet at the BRRVLN Office.

